ROAD MAPS DISTRICT ABOUT LINDY HOME IN HAUPTMANN TRUNK

DEVELOPED THAT ACCUSED RANSOM TAKER KNEW SECTION INTIMATELY

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—District Attorney Samuel J. Foley announced today that investigators had found in Bruno Hauptmann's trunk road maps of the Sourland Mountain section of New Jersey where the estate of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is located.

Foley also stated that Hauptmann "is able to reproduce certain sections of the Hopewell (N. J.) territory from memory, even down to the smallest intersecting forks of road."

"We also found in the trunk," Foley said, "an English-German dictionary of the 1,000 most commonly used words. The more difficult words appearing in the ransom note were in the dictionary and this, to some extent, confirms the theory that Hauptmann mis-spelled a number of the smaller words, while the more difficult words were written correctly, an indication that he looked up the spelling of the harder words in the dictionary."

Foley said that Hauptmann "was able to draw maps of the Jersey section with remarkable accuracy." "We now know," the Bronx prosecutor said, "that he fished in those sections. He also had road maps covering the entire territory around Gay Head, Suburbs Bay, Elizabeth Island and Martha's Vineyard. We are also able to show that Hauptmann fished there also."

Baby Not in New England. The Bronx district attorney has consistently refused to discuss a possible New Jersey kidnapping or murder case. However, he did say today that "we have never con-

Five Deputies Threatened After Killing Striker

BRIDGEPORT, Pa., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Five sheriffs deputies, arrested after a bystander was shot to death during a textile strike, were taken to the Norristown jail today for protection from several thousand aroused citizens.

Willow Quick, 23, was shot in the disturbance at the James Lees and Sons textile mill yesterday as officers escorted workers from the plant through a crowd of strikers, and died later in a hospital.

The five deputies—Howard White, Joseph Smith, Wilbur Parker, Robert Pinkerton and Harry Hildebrandt—took refuge in the mill, where police arrested them. The Lees mill strike began September 4, the workers refusing to return because of purported discrimination in rehiring some strikers.

Storm Warning. WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 10:30 a. m. disturbed condition in middle gulf has apparently developed cyclonic winds. Center is about 250 miles south of Louisiana coast, direction of movement uncertain but apparently slowly northward at present."

ROAD BUILDERS IN LONG'S REGIME ARE FACING TAX CHARGES

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The United States grand jury today prepared to resume its sessions after returning indictments yesterday, charging income taxes of members of the Long political family were evaded.

The grand jury was charged with the administration of Senator Huey P. Long, then governor. The brothers, Harry B. Nelson, Willis W. Nelson and John P. Nelson, all officials of the Mississippi Valley Company, Inc., were charged in the indictments with evading a collective total of $28,729.10 income taxes for the years of 1931, 1932 and 1933.

The grand jury has been making an investigation of income taxes of members of the Long political organization for many months. The brothers said the government's policy appeared to be one of indicating first and determining later liability.

INJURED BRITISH VESSEL HEADS FOR IRELAND FOR HELP

TWO SHIPS AIDING FREIGHTER DAMAGED BY AN ATLANTIC GALE

WEST HARTLEPOOL, Eng., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The British freighter Almerby, in distress in the North Atlantic, is making for an Irish port, said a message received from the captain today by the Ropner company, owners of the ship.

"Impossible to reach Newfoundland," the message said. "Water is filling the number two hold x x x through a defective bulkhead. Pumps working incessantly. Doing everything possible to cope with situation."

The Almerby, bound to Montreal from Wales, sent out a call for help Tuesday afternoon. Part of her bridge was carried away by a gale and she was believed to be drifting helplessly.

Later the vessel reported her hatch, which had been stove in, was temporarily secured and two ships were standing by.

PSYCHIATRISTS FAIL COMPLETE EXAMINATION; TRIAL DATE SET

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The callous carpenter of the Bronx, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, presented today the same enigma to science today that he has posed to the law.

Five psychiatrists, after subjecting the Lindbergh case prisoner to a sanity test for more than two hours, left him with the announcement that the examination had not been completed and that it would be resumed tomorrow.

A witness to the examination in a windowless room of the Bronx county jail today, from which Hauptmann maintained his sullen silence and inscrutable expression, answering questions in a monotone and rarely looking at the psychiatrists.

Hauptmann went before the psychiatrists yesterday, noon after he had gone before Judge James M. Barrett and heard his trial set for one week from today.

SALES TAX TALK IS SWEEPING NATION; EVEN SCORE STATES ALREADY HAVE SUCH TAXATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Sales tax talk—pro and con—is sweeping the country.

A survey showed today that the sales tax wave has rolled over the nation until 20 states now have such levies in one form or another.

Under the domes of many a state capitol this winter the controversial subject of inaugurating or extending such taxes will arise again. For states, like their Uncle Sam, are wrestling with deficits.

The movement toward sales and other newer forms of taxation has gained momentum as real estate taxes in many cases have reached a point of diminishing returns. Real property owners have been crying for relief.

Gasoline taxes, seized upon since the war as a lucrative source of revenue, also have been boosted in some states to the point where it is difficult to raise them higher. Income levies, whose use by states has been growing,

BUILDING TRADES STORM SHADOW ON FEDERATION MEET

GREEN TELLS WORKERS MUST WORK FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The storm brewing in the building trades department came to a head today, casting a shadow over the American Federation of Labor convention.

The executive council of the A. F. of L. decided to take up the controversy late today in a last minute effort to keep it from the floor of the convention. Leaders of both factions said they saw little likelihood of a compromise.

The dispute involved the refusal of the building trades department to sever the recommendation of its own executive council to seat delegates from the carpenters, bricklayers and electrical workers international unions.

While the delegates watched anxiously the developments in this internal dispute, the words of President William Green were still fresh in their minds that workers of the world must unite in the interests of international peace.

Asserting it is the "purpose and spirit of the workers of the world to see that war never occurs again," Green said labor must move solidly "to prevent what seems to be an approaching war."

"We cannot allow those with a mad lust for power to have their way," the federation president warned. "They must not be allowed to command the masses of the people to march out on the field of battle and destroy each other."

Green's remarks were made in

INSULL STOCK SALES TERMED CONSPIRACY TO SWINDLE PUBLIC

FEDERAL ATTORNEY DETAILS CASE AS UNCOVERED BY INVESTIGATORS

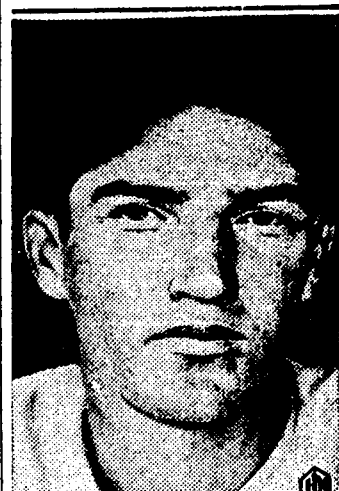

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Samuel Insull's stock sales in his inflated Corporation Securities company were termed a "simple conspiracy to swindle, cheat and defraud the public" by the government, charged that the company was set up simply as a "dumping ground" for large quantities of stock acquired in market deals to boost the price of Insull stock.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green, in a statement detailing what government investigators uncovered in Insull's financing, charged that the company was set up simply as a "dumping ground" for large quantities of stock acquired in market deals to boost the price of Insull stock.

First Hearing on Pipeline Permits Is Held at Austin

SINGLE WITNESS ADVISES AGAINST ISSUANCE TO CERTAIN LINES

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The first official hearing in the history of the Texas Petroleum industry on permits for pipeline to transport oil was held here today.

It came as both state and federal authorities threatened punitive action against pipelines who produce and transport oil in violation of propagation regulations.

Although the hearing was brief, Laton Stanberry, chief of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission, hailed it as an important step in enforcing conservation measures.

The only witness, F. W. Renshaw, employee of the commission, recommended that permits not be granted the Rose gathering system, operating in Gregg county, and the Longview gathering system, Rusk county, the Penco pipe line company, Gregg county, and the W. C. Turnbow pipe line company, Gregg county.

His recommendations were based on charges that regulations of the commission with reference to transporting excess oil had been violated.

W. T. Saye, attorney of Longview, appearing for the W. C. Turnbow pipe line company, asked Renshaw if his objections to

Definite Steps to End Gasoline War Planned at Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Definite steps to end Texas gasoline price wars were planned here today at a meeting of representatives of integrated oil companies.

The Texas state price stabilization committee, through its chairman, W. B. Rew, and Fred M. Lege, Jr., Texas state market chairman, advanced four proposals to end the war. They were: (1) The state price stabilization committee to handle all independent handling of ungraded gasoline, compared with the major third grade or competitive product; (2) abolition of the split account; (3) the state price stabilization committee to operate a sliding margin, bringing down the retailer's margin of profit.

The action was taken after addresses by R. L. Thornton of Dallas and Mrs. T. B. Griffith of Terrell, both of the centennial planning commission.

JAPANESE WOMEN ARE GAINING NEW FREEDOM BUT SISTERS IN CHINA KNOW IT'S MAN'S WORLD

TOKYO.—(AP)—Japanese women are emerging from their spic and span houses of wood and paper, and today they are more distinguished in the fields of commerce and industry.

They have jobs. The traditional restrictions on their social lives are loosening up to a marked extent. In this mighty little empire, where formerly all marriages were "arranged" by parents, there are now an increasing number of marriages in which love does all the arranging.

But in such matters as concern the feminism of other lands the Japanese of Japan are far behind, and seemingly make no progress.

The movement to obtain the vote for women has been suspended—forgotten in the great surge of nationalistic emotion which has swept the empire. Since the conquest of Manchuria three years ago Japan has been too busy to get excited about women's rights.

The change in the mind of Genji Matsuda, an astute politician who is minister of education, illustrates the set-back suffered by the suffrage movement. He is a leader of the Minseitō, the more liberal of the two great political parties, and up to 1931 was one of the warmest supporters of the movement to grant a modified suffrage to women. But a change has come over the nation and Mr. Matsuda recently said:

"Japanese women should stay at home and look after domestic affairs. It is out of the question to give them the vote. The women are simply hideous these days. They get their hair bobbed, and NAVIN FIELD, DETROIT, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Staking their hopes of a world series come-back on the strong right arm of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, 22-year-old Giant from El Dorado, Ark., the Detroit Tigers came out today to fight off the rampant St. Louis Cardinals and seek victory that would put them back on even terms with the National league champions.

A cool breeze swept the field but the sun was out more warmly than the day before and another big crowd, numbering close to 42,000 spectators, was on hand for the second game of baseball's championship battle.

Opposing Rowe was the sturdy southpaw veteran of the Cardinals, Bill Hallahan of Birmingham, N. Y., a pitcher who in the 1931 series against the Athletics and one of the best "money hurlers" in the St. Louis ranks.

LONE BANDIT HELD UP WOMAN AND TWO MEN NEAR STREETMAN

TRUCK DRIVER AND CORSICANA MAN AND WOMAN ROBBED AND KIDNAPED

A lone hi-jacker held up two men and a woman on Highway 75 about 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, relieved them of $30. in cash and after forcing them to drive the car belonging to the woman to a point between Angus and the Love Bridge road, he forced the victims from the Oldsmobile coupe and drove away, leaving them to make their way to telephone where help was summoned and officers were notified.

The bandit advised the victims the car would be abandoned on a side road near Corsicana Wednesday, but shortly before noon no trace had been found.

According to information received from the victims, a cotton truck operator en route to Houston was held up near the Wayne Milligan home on the highway between Streetman and Richmond. The driver's name was not learned by officers here. He is reported as saying that he did not know how the bandit got on his truck and the first thing he knew, a man was held on him and he was forced to stop. He was relieved of $25. and was required to park his truck on the highway.

Corsicana's Victims.

Mrs. W. L. McCorkle and Eustice Becton, both of Corsicana, who were en route to Corsicana after delivering the Daily Sun newspaper, route to Richmond, Media, Fairfield and Streetman, were stopped by the bandit. Becton had about $1 and Mrs. McCorkle was relieved of $4. He took the McCorkle car and had the three victims to ride in the coupe while he drove the running board with a gun against the side of Becton, drove.

After passing Jack Floyd and Claude Burns, county officers, the driver was forced to turn off the highway at Angus toward the Love Bridge road.

The bandit is quoted as saying he would not harm the victims after he robbed them and it was thought he intended, from his conversation, for the victims to drive him north of Corsicana and let him out of the car. After the officers were alerted he changed his apparent intentions.

Robbery Broadcast.

The robbery was reported to city and county officers and was relayed and broadcast by the Dallas police department.

Officer Burns stated Wednesday the bandit saw the car with a man standing on the running board but nothing was done to attract their attention. The particle cotton truck also was noticed on the highway near Streetman.

The bandit promised the victims the car would not be wrecked and would be found parked on a side road.

The description of the hi-jacker was given as about 35 years of age, weight about 145 pounds, brown hair and red hair, wearing a brown suit, a brown hat and a suede jacket.

M'CORKLE AUTO IS FOUND ABANDONED IN HUBBARD AREA

The automobile belonging to Mrs. W. L. McCorkle, victim of a hi-jacker Tuesday evening while en route to Corsicana after delivering a Daily Sun route through Navarro, Limestone and Freestone counties, was recovered near Hubbard, Hill county, Wednesday and was delivered to the owners late Wednesday by J. W. McElroy, city marshal of Hubbard.

One tire had blown out and a front spring had been broken. The car was found abandoned on a road following a collision with another car Wednesday morning.

No arrests have been made in this case. Mrs. McCorkle and Eustice Becton, driver of the car, were stopped by the bandit north of Streetman after the driver of a cotton truck had been stopped and robbed of $25. Mrs. McCorkle and Becton were relieved of $5. and the robber forced the three victims into the Oldsmobile coupe while he rode on a running board. The three victims were put out of the car between Angus and the Love Bridge road.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK BE OBSERVED BY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

In keeping with the proclamation made last week by Mayor J. Wesley Edens, the schools of Corsicana will instruct their students in all phases of fire-prevention, according to an announcement by W. H. Norwood, superintendent.

Fire drills will be held during the week, and essays will be written by High school and Junior High school students. The bells and signals which mean fire in the schools will be explained to everyone.

"Everyone is fire-conscious, of course," said O. P. Douglas, principal of the High school, "but we need such a week to bring the seriousness of fire before the people's, and students' eyes."

Talks in the chapels of the various schools are being planned, and authorities on fire and its prevention will be asked to speak to the students.

Plan to Convert Additional Bonds To Lower Interest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—With the approach of the October 15 date for cessation of interest on $1,200,000,000 of called Fourth 4-14 per cent Liberty bonds treasury experts today surveyed the possibility of converting more of the nation's debt into lower interest issues.

The president's reference in his recent speech to the $10,000,000,000 British conversion operations in 1932 aroused belief in some quarters that a substantial additional amount of this issue might be called Oct. 15, effective six months later.

In addition to those already called, $3,270,000,000 of these bonds are outstanding, as well as $335,981,500 of First 4-14's which may be called as of June 15 by giving three months' notice.

FEED, LIVESTOCK RATES IN DROUGHT AREAS ARE REDUCED

TWENTY-ONE STATES, TEXAS INCLUDED, AFFECTED BY COMMISSION RULING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized railroads serving 21 western and southwestern states to reduce rates on feed and livestock in drought areas.

The authorization covers the counties in the various states which were subject to the reduced rates in effect prior to September 1. The rates expired at that time and the railroads refused to renew them.

At conferences, however, between department of agriculture officials, Commissioner Clyde B. Atchafalain and railroad officials an agreement was reached that rates on feed should be reduced until April 30, 1935 and upon livestock until December 31, 1934.

Rates on hay, alfalfa, millet, soy bean hay and cow pea hay are to be 66 2/3 per cent of the hay rate and for other types of feed 50 per cent of the hay rate.

The reduced rates are not retroactive to the September 1 date. Rate of livestock to feeding points will be 85 per cent of the fat livestock rate on the kind of livestock shipped. When the stock is returned to the drought area the rate will be 15 per cent of the fat stock rate.

The states affected by the order, effective as of September 28, are:

Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Texas and Wyoming.

TEXAS RANCHMEN TO APPEAL DIRECT SECRETARY WALLACE

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Representatives of Southwestern ranchmen here seeking government purchase of 2,500,000 more cattle in the drought belt, planned today to fly to Chicago to meet Secretary Wallace and make a personal appeal to him.

They placed their case before all available farm administration officials in Washington yesterday and now want, said Joy Taylor of Amarillo, Texas, one of their spokesmen, to go direct to the secretary. They had expected to see Wallace here.

Taylor checked the cabinet officer's itinerary to see if it would be possible to overtake him in Chicago on his trip west.

Meanwhile Representative Marvin Jones (D-Tex), chairman of the house agriculture committee, who has supported the cattlemen's plea, conferred again with Chester Danahy, AAA administrator, on the situation.

The cattlemen's request for additional buying will be taken direct to President Roosevelt if the farm administration is unable to find sufficient funds to carry on.

The President, in that event, will be asked to issue an executive order making the necessary funds available.

Taylor expressed confidence that an increased buying program ultimately would be approved by Mr. Roosevelt, if the farm administration itself is unable to act.

City Officers Find Stolen Car; Arrest Fight Participants

City officers arrested three men late Wednesday afternoon in connection with an alleged affray on East Third Avenue. Another alleged participant was taken to the county hospital for surgical treatment. Filing of charges against the men were delayed until further investigation.

An automobile was found abandoned on East Second Avenue behind Forson Grocery company, with a number of empty cases in the rear of the car by city officers Wednesday night. The car was later reported stolen by C. R. Glenn of Dallas from its parking place near Lyman Davis cafe, and was returned to the owner.

Registration itself is unable to act, saying the westerners had an ally in Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator. Hopkins, the Texan said, had expressed belief that more buying was necessary and had promised to recommend that course to the President.

The ranchmen, who have told AAA officials widespread starvation of range cattle is threatened if the purchase program is not continued on a large scale, all have expressed praise for the administration's cattle campaign and its results thus far.

Those who plan to fly to Chicago include, Taylor, president of the Panhandle (Texas) Livestock association, E. B. Spiller of Little Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, and F. E. Mollin of Denver, Colo., of the American National Livestock association.

Officers Groping For Clues In Death Two Brothers Alice

ALICE, Texas, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Puzzled officers today groped for clues in the robbery and slayings of Virgil Dobbs, 16, and Homer Dobbs, 32, his brother, whose bodies were found near their vegetable truck wagon here.

State highway patrolmen and county officers joined in a search for the slayers, but admittedly were without clues. Joe Foster, a fence rider, found the bodies on the George Reynolds ranch about 75 feet from their truck, parked on a highway.

Bullet wounds in the bodies indicated they had been shot in the back. About $200 they were carrying was gone. They made three trips weekly to San Antonio's vegetable market.

Seek Ex-Convict

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Police sought a pardoned ex-convict here today in connection with the slaying of Homer M. Dobbs, 32, and his 16-year-old brother, Virgil, both of San Juan, in a pasture near Alice Tuesday.

Clarence Dobbs, 23, brother of the slain pair, said the suspect sought had tried to get work with his brothers the day they left San Antonio in their produce truck.

Local officers were assisting Sheriff J. B. Arnold of Bex county and Deputy Sheriff T. C. Shipp of Live Oak county in the man hunt.

IN CHURCH OF HOLY SEPULCHRE, GRAPE VINE OF WONDER GROWS*

Traveller Tells of Little-Known Phenomenon
In Connection With Christendom's Central Shrine—The Mystic Power of Religion In The Lives of Human Beings.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

I know something about the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. It is a place known to one out of a hundred thousand visitors to the most venerated shrine in Christendom. I was a guest of the Greek monks in their residence, high up in the pile of masonry. Imagine my astonishment when I was led out to an open veranda, and found myself under the tumbled shade of an old and luxuriant grape vine. Puzzled, I sought an explanation of the mystery; for certainly there could not be so much on the roof to support such a great and venerable plant.

Then the monks explained. Down in a narrow strip of earth beside the wall, at the level of the old city's streets, the vine was planted. It was the vine of the monks' ancestors. But patient care had led the vine up and up—possibly before adjacent structures were built—until it burgeoned in the sunshine above the dark streets of Jerusalem. It was rooted deep in the earth, it bore its leaves and fruit high up in the light of day. Now it affords shade and refreshment to the monks whose work is in the close and dank depths of the great church below.

Many and various are the legends of this vine of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, but the first is that its roots lie deep in the soil of the life-giving earth. Fruitage depends upon rootage. None of the beauty or fruit of the vine would be possible were it not for the sustaining power of that sacred soil. Out of the hidden depths comes the blessing and bounty of the arbor.

Like that vine, lives of power have their roots deep in ground that is not possible from the spots where the fruits are enjoyed. We admire the grace and helpfulness of noble personalities, and do not see the source of their power. It is Christ's own parable of the vine all over again. Christians, with their life and their ministry, are the branches which the world sees; but Christ Himself is the vine deep growing from the eternal love and purposes of God.

Mystics of Faith

This familiar figure of the vine is in the heart of the far-away talk of Jesus with his disciples at the Last Supper in the upper room, just before He went up to the Garden of Gethsemane and the cross. Only John's Gospel quotes the three chapters which contain this discourse are the best-thumbed part of every Christian's Bible. They reveal the character of Jesus as He came into the world. His attitude toward His disciples is more profoundly than any other words spoken during His ministry.

"Mysticism" says the coldly intellectual critic of these best-beloved words. Granted. And the best friends of Jesus have always been mystics. The dictionary defines a mystic as "one who holds to the possibility of direct, conscious and unmistakable communion with God." That should mean all Christians. Certainly it includes a countless multitude, from St. Paul down through the ages, with Thomas à Kempis a conspicuous example. Some religious denominations, like Quakerism, are founded in the doctrine of mysticism.

As a bald matter of fact, an indisputable point of clear interpretation of the New Testament, this "mystic, sweet communion," between Christ and the Christian is an essential teaching of the New Testament. Without it the sacrament of the Lord's Supper is meaningless. The supreme mystery and might of the Christian religion is that the disciple may personally share the life of the risen Jesus. As our lesson says, "Apart from Me, ye can do nothing." A Christless church and a Christless life are equally meaningless. Mysticism is the spiritual life in this problem-filled day. It is the voices of crying, "Come to Christ!"

Too Much "Religion"

Publicists and politicians are very free nowadays with fervid declarations that our supreme need is for "religion." Some of that word vaguely; others would put into it the whole content of Christianity. "Religion" embraces all sorts of things, from the voodooism of the African jungle to the intellectual teaching of the deity for ethical culture. There are scores of "religions" extant today, in various parts of the world. So much of the talk about "religion" is really meaningless.

The International Sunday School Lesson for October 7, is "Fellowship With Christ"—John 15.

Only the religion of Christianity is adequate for our troubled time. And only the Christianity that represents vital union with the omnipotent Christ can really function. We need His teachings and His example; but for real empowerment we must have His shared life. Nothing less is equal to our day's desperate demands. His "all power" is imparted to those whose life is united to His life, as the branch is united to the vine.

Around the world, and especially in this country, there is intensifying a bitter clash between conservatives and liberals. Both have programs; but neither has sufficient power. It will take something more than mortal might to make right all that is wrong with society. There is not a political program or philosophy on the horizon that cannot be riddled full of holes by those opposed to it. Nothing less than a new and Divine power, a sustaining force of Christ Himself, operating through men and women who have found in Galley 2—Sunday School Lesson Him life, can make over the existing order. A "revival of religion" is not enough, unless by that phrase we mean the unleashing of Divine power through human lives which are in real union with Jesus. Then, and not until then, may we "ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you." Branches can bear fruit only by remaining on the Vine.

Back to First Principles

Religion, in the Christian sense, is wholly a matter of relationship to Christ. Despite all attempts to water it down into a mere social program, or an ethical or intellectual conception, it remains clear—if the words of the New Testament may be taken as the basis—that it is the personal transaction between a man and his Redeemer that constitutes Christianity. If Jesus Christ means nothing to a person, then Christianity means nothing. The Christian life conveys the grace and the power of Christ. Out of that springs all of his service, all of his peace, all of his characteristically Christian qualities.

I have seen on the faces of worshippers in St. Peter's in Rome, in St. Giles, in Edinburgh, in the Monastery of Mt. Sinai, in rescue missions in many cities, in Quaker meetings and in countless Christian congregations all over the world, the same rapture which betokened a consciousness of Christ. No man can have the monopoly of faith. It is the universal hallmark of the Christian religion. The reality of the teaching of the vine and the branches is vindicated daily in millions of lives. This is the strength of the Christian faith. It is the power, doomed to rudeness, it supports and suffers, even as it sustains the soldiers and leaders of God's kingdom army on earth. Jesus Himself is the sustaining motive and power of Christian living.

The Mercy of The Knife

As explicitly as He said, "Apart from Me ye can do nothing," so, at the same time, Jesus said, "Every branch that beareth fruit, I prune it, that it may bear more fruit." The vine-dresser cares too much for the vine and its branches not to keep it clean for grape-bearing. That is the most comprehensive explanation of Christian suffering. It is the mercy of the knife.

OCTOBER 11 SET AS DATE OF HAUPTMANN EXTORTION TRIAL

ACCUSED LINDBERGH RANSOM
RECEIVER APPEARED
MORE WORRIED TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A theater ticket seller today identified Bruno Richard Hauptmann as the man who tossed one of the Lindbergh ransom bills through the grill of her cage November 26 last.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—County Judge James M. Barrett in the Bronx today set Oct. 11 for the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann on an indictment charging extortion in the Lindbergh kidnap case.

Judge Barrett denied a request of defense counsel, James M. Fawcett, who asked to be given 60 days to prepare his case.

Hauptmann was led into the courtroom for the proceeding. He wore a grey suit, a clean blue shirt and appeared more worried than at any of the three hearings he has attended. His arraignment to plead on the extortion indictment in addition to today's proceeding.

The defense attorney told the court that he had not considered the fixing of a definite date for trial, "because I am still investigating the case."

"I took the case only ten days ago," Fawcett said. "A vast number of witnesses are yet to be examined. Among them are persons professing a knowledge of the transfer of the ransom money which took place more than two years ago."

"I ask a reasonable length of time for preparation. I feel that 60 days is the earliest date at which the case could be tried," Fawcett then requested that the case be brought to trial Oct. 11.

"The people propose to go to trial then," Foley said, "unless some special rights of the people of the state of New Jersey will interfere with the setting of that date."

Judge Barrett then promptly announced "the date for trial is set for October 11."

Hauptmann Has Two Court Appearances Scheduled Wednesday

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann had two appointments today—a court appearance for detaining of his extradition trial and a sanity examination—while investigators scoured the Bronx for an accomplice in the paying of Lindbergh ransom money.

A trial date may be set in vain, however. Before the case is called New Jersey plans to extradite Hauptmann on charges of kidnapping and murdering Charles Augustus Lindbergh.

Samuel J. Foley, district attorney of Bronx county, planned to ask the court today to set an early date for Hauptmann's trial on the indictment charging the kidnapping and murder of the child.

William J. Reilly came in for more questioning today. He is the Bronx lumber yard superintendent

MOUNTAIN CURRENTS RIP BOMBER WING TO KILL THREE PILOTS

FOURTH FLYER SAVED BY PARACHUTE IN RUGGED
CALIFORNIA AREA

MARCH FIELD, Cal., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Treacherous mountain air currents which caused the wing of their giant bomber plane to collapse, were blamed today for the deaths of three army aviators in the rugged mountain country near Bishop, Cal. A fourth man escaped death when he jumped with his parachute.

The dead: Capt. Robert E. Self, 39, commander of the 11th bombardment squadron. A graduate of the army photography school at Langley Field, Va., he was a World War pilot. His home is listed as Worcester, Mass. He leaves a widow and two children.

Second Lieutenant Clifford L. Huffman, 25, Fort Collins, Colo. He was a 1932 graduate of the Air school at Kelly Field, Texas. His widow lives at Riverside, Cal.

Private Leroy Hitchcock, 21, Bakersfield, Cal. He was trained at Chisnute Field, Ill.

The lone survivor, Cadet Pay W. Olmsted, Santa Barbara, Cal., bailed out of the disabled plane and landed near the edge of a cliff, barely escaping gliding over it.

The ship crashed yesterday afternoon during a missed practice flight of the 20 planes to the Yosemite Valley region.

TRIO OF NEGROES OVERPOWER JAILER AT COUNTY FARM

Charles Wiley, guard at the Navarro county farm at Petty's Chapel was overpowered by three negro convicts Tuesday night as he prepared to lock them up in the jail for the night.

He was relieved of his pistol and was then locked in the jail while the trio made their escape. Wiley was later released from his imprisonment. No trace of the negroes had been found by officers Wednesday morning.

Two of the negroes were placed on the farm a few days ago from Dawson, one on a charge of disturbing public worship and the other for the alleged effective wielding of a knife during an argument. The third negro is said to be from Tyler and socked Sheriff Rufus Pevhouse on the jaw some time ago when he was taking him to jail on a minor charge.

HARD LIME FOUND AT 6250 FEET TODAY IN WHELOCK TEST

A hard lime formation was occupying drillers on the R. L. Wheelock et al. Cert. No. 1. It was found Thursday, the bit cutting the dry white sand late Wednesday. Drilling was in progress about the 6250 foot level.

The hard dry sand occupied the operators for several days with no indications of any content. Announcement has also been made of a new location by the Siam Oil company in the vicinity of Rural Shade in the southeastern part of the county. Several dry holes have been encountered in this sector, and the latest location is on the Mrs. D. W. Ray farm in the Elijah Powers survey. Contract has been awarded to a Dallas firm and derrick is reported being built with actual drilling to start soon.

AAA REFERENDUM

It is not always easy to find out what the American farmer thinks about things. For one thing, he is not given much to talking. For another, "he" is a whole section of society, not an individual, and his opinions on any given subject are therefore as varied as the individual opinions of any other group.

It should be interesting, therefore, to follow the referendum the AAA plans to conduct among corn, hog and feed growers. Two questions are to be asked. "Do you favor an adjustment program dealing with corn and hogs in 1935?" and "Do you favor a one-contract-per-farm adjustment program dealing with grains and livestock to become effective in 1936?"

Farmers who did not join the corn-hog program or sign up for crop reduction are to be consulted along with those who accepted the government's plan at the start. For that reason the answers should be of real worth, being a fairly thorough test of agricultural sentiment on some very controversial matters.

CASH RELIEF AND GUMPTICS

In the September, mid-monthly survey, Gertrude Springer tells amusing tales of what happens when relief agencies change from grocery orders to cash relief. A little cash in hand looks like a lot to persons who haven't had any cash at all for weeks, months or years. What they do with it often looks wildly foolish to social workers. One of these curious "misuses" of relief cash is described:

"We had one man who through years of relief clung stubbornly to a little old delivery truck that seemed like junk to us but which he was sure would some day help him back into—of all things—the corn business. And bless you, with his first cash didn't he, to the frank disgust of the visitor, buy five gallons of gas and set out for that little old rattle-trap to go into the corn business."

"You'll not believe it, but his business was to comb over trash collections for cast-off corsets which he 'rehabilitated' and sold to heaven only knows whom. Of course it seemed wild, and we were strongly tempted to put him back on grocery orders to protect his family. But we held off, and at the end of two weeks his family had gotten by and he had a clear profit of $1.85. His business has grown steadily, and he says that in another month he'll be off relief. And I believe him. Now who in the world of us would have had imagination enough to see what that man saw as a business for himself?"

Relief organizations which turned very cautiously from the grocery-order system to cash relief would not go back to the former willingly, says the author.

It seems reasonable that if the person on relief is expected to maintain his own morale and to be alert to get off relief, he should be allowed to use initiative and judgment about his own affairs while he is jobless. Experience so far shows an encouraging amount of backbone, imagination and persistence in persons who might have been expected to succumb to the deadening effects of prolonged relief.

JUST FOLKS

Copyright, 1934, Edw. A. Guest.

THE FAME
The joy he sought was never much
Beyond her smiles and tears;
Hence modestly he kept in touch
With all the world's affairs,
He only face he cared to win
And sought as best he could
Was that his own, through thick
And thin,
Should think of him as good.

He honored men who rose to fame,
But envied none at all.
He was content with friends who came
At times on him to call;
And if he failed when over-taxed,
He'd rise to start anew.
Their faith was all he ever asked.

In what he tried to do.
Some seek the plaudits of the throng.
Some would be worldwide known;
But all he sought his whole life long
Was plaudits of his own.
So modestly he went his way,
Urged by this single whim:
That it was fame enough if they
Were always proud of him.

BUILDING BOYS AND GIRLS.

All over the country college registration has increased over last year. The highest gains are in the Middle West.

How to explain it is a little difficult. Have more parents actually more money to spend this year than last? Have those who find themselves still with a resource or two come to the conclusion that they cannot trust banks or stocks or real estate, and that they might as well build what they have left into their boys and girls? Is there more scholarship aid available? Are boys and girls more willing than those of a few years ago to go to cheaper institutions when they find they cannot go to the more expensive?

All these questions can be answered in the affirmative. It is also true that parents who have seen the idle youth losing courage have become willing to make any sacrifice at all to keep their own busy until better times.

In any case, those parents are wise and fortunate who can build up their sons and daughters at this time instead of letting idleness tear them down.

THE SCHOOL SIEGE

The story of the siege of the high school in McAdoo, Pa., may go down in history. There were 13 positions on the teaching staff, and 26 teachers showed up on opening day, half Democratic, half Republican. The Republicans got there first and held the school doors against the pushing Democrats. Bystanders naturally began to throw things. Empty milk bottles whizzed through the educational air, accompanied by bricks and hunks of earth. Finally one of the besieged educators was injured and the other 12 came out, taking the casualty to the hospital.

When last heard from, the Democrats were not teaching, either. But they were still claiming fraud at the last school election.

This is an extreme case. But politics works an insidious way into education in many places where it makes less obvious trouble. The two do not mix well. Public schools have improved as they have risen above partisanship.

NO LOCAL GREAT WAR.

One sentence in Maxim Litvinoff's maiden speech upon Soviet Russia's admission to the League of Nations deserves to be widely published and kept in bold letters before the eyes of intelligent citizens in all the countries of the world: "No war of serious dimensions can be localized; sooner or later any war must bring misfortune to all countries, whether belligerents or neutrals."

Isn't that true? Has not the civilized world learned its truth in the years since 1914? And yet, for reasons hard to understand in thinking people, it is still considered unpatriotic to try to prevent war.

Did some one say profits had been done away with? Not while the tobacco industry remains, with its annual profits of more than $200,000,000 and its annual wage bill of $35,000,000.

GET GOING, UNCLE!

—By Clive Weed

THE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

Everybody knows that government jobs ought to be assigned on merit rather than pull. Everybody gets off remarks in somebody's house after a good dinner to that effect. But they usually end by shrugging the shoulders and saying, "Well, that's what politics is in this country. What can anyone do about it? You can't change human nature."

Franklin Roudybush decided to do something about it. He studied Britain's Civil Service and observed a school which prepares students for its examinations. Then he came home and started a school of his own in Washington. The students will be obliged to study government, history, economics and law. They will go to see how the government runs its business in the various administrative offices. They will also attend sessions of the legislative and judicial branches—the House, Senate and Supreme Court.

The founder of the school hopes that when his graduates go forth to apply for jobs they will know something about them. If he gets the right kind of students and succeeds in putting over his plan, his graduates will rise faster themselves and not waste government time and money by learning feebly after they get there.

LOTTERY DEFECTS

The objections to lotteries, now urged as a means of raising public funds in New York and other states, are not merely moral but practical.

As for the moral issue, in 1820, when the lottery system had become a regular part of the state's financial policy, Governor Clinton said it was universally recognized as one of the "most pernicious modes of raising revenue," because of "the spirit of gambling it generates and the demoralizing influence it exercises."

As for practicality, in the following year at a constitutional convention a state leader pointed out that it was financially unprofitable, because "a very small portion of the money extracted in various ways from the people ever found its way into the public treasury."

Another practical objection may be the ease with which such a revenue-raising scheme can be evaded. All that citizens need to do, to dodge taxation on this basis, is to refuse to buy lottery tickets.

SUPERINTENDENTS OF SCHOOLS OF COUNTY MET HERE MONDAY

Nine Navarro county independent school district superintendents met at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Corsicana High school and made plans for the district meeting at Trinity University, Waco, Saturday, Nov. 3. It was announced today by Graydon H. Wilmon, superintendent of the Kereas schools. The meeting was called by Supl. Wilmon upon the request of Dr. Elizabeth Smellage, state supervisor of the state department of education.

Superintendent Wilmon explained the plans of the meeting, as recently arranged by group superintendents, who met with Dr. Smellage in Dallas. The plan is to have sectional programs for such departments of the school system as primary, intermediate, junior high, high school, Parent-Teacher association and adult relief education work. Dr. Horn of Columbia University, New York City, will deliver the principal address at a general session.

Lunch will be served at noon in the Drape Hall, at 60 cents per plate, and plans are being made for a luncheon program. In addition of the regular program, one of the outstanding features of the day will be group singing by music classes of various schools in this district. Several hundred children will be assembled and directed by a supervisor, and sing patriotic songs dealing with Texas history.

The counties comprising this district are Dallas, Kaufman, Van Zandt, Ellis, Navarro, Henderson and Rockwall. The superintendents present at today's meeting were: H. C. Wilco, Dawson; Graydon H. Wilmon, Kereas; M. Dunn, Rural Shade; H. I. Rush, I. O. F.; M. D. Murphy, Floomington Grove; J. C. Watson, Barry; H. H. Harrison, Frost; W. B. Brown, county superintendent, and W. H. ## BRITONS COMPARE THEIR RECOVERY WITH NEW DEAL

SOMEWHAT ALIKE EXCEPT BALLYHOO LACKING IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Methods by which the United States and Great Britain attacked their national problems differed largely in "the temper of the people," one authority said today. Comparisons of America's "new deal" and Great Britain's "redeal" are popular here following President Roosevelt's address Sunday night in which he paid tribute to England's economic and social program. "Things can be done one way in a nation of this size and type, which may be characterized as a different viewpoint, although perhaps on the same general basis in the United States," the authority added. Nevertheless, Britain's "redeal," beginning with the election of a national assembly and drawing support from most parties, in many ways has been along the lines of the American program. As far back as July, 1933, one of the leading cabinet ministers, who may be characterized as "Britain's General Johnson," said "we have done everything Washington has done except ballyhoo." British statesmen, he said, are "congenitally opposed to whoopee."

Another high source said today British methods are "more orthodox" than America's but at the same time the complete "redeal" here is recognized for what it is—a change in traditional methods of aiding rehabilitation. There still is extensive work to be done to bring England into the full rays of the economic sunshine—the conservative party's official statements say that. Unemployment is still a problem—about 2,384,000 are without work—and the future of the foreign trade program appears uncertain. Britain's "redeal" included abandonment of the gold standard, scrapping of the ancient free trade policy in favor of tariffs, agreements with dominions for the extension of empire trade, trade agreements with various nations and loan conversions.

Bullet Riddled Bodies of Two Brothers Found

ALICE, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The bullet-riddled bodies of Homer Dobbs, 32, and Vergil Dobbs, 16, brothers from San Juan, Texas, were found in a pasture near Alice today and about $200 they were believed to have carried was missing. Officers advanced the theory that they had been robbed and slain. The men apparently died shortly after last midnight as they returned from San Antonio where they sold a truckload of vegetables. A fence rider making his rounds on the George Reynolds ranch found the bodies about 75 feet from where the produce truck was parked. The men had been shot twice in the back and officers expressed belief that they had been shot after they fell, for bullets were found buried in the ground under their faces.

MERCHANTS FAIR ATTRACTING CROWDS TO ANNUAL EXHIBIT

EXCELLENT MUSICAL PRO- GRAM FEATURED AFFAIR WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Merchants Fair and Bazaar sponsored by the Women's Council of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, was the scene of much activity Wednesday. Housed in the Drane and McKee garage building, on the corner of Collins and Twelfth streets, the attractive booths decorated by the merchants were the objects of much interest.

On the right, entering at Twelfth street, the beautiful new cars on exhibit by Calkins and Dublin, Beaton Motor Co., and Jackson Brothers hold one's attention. Immediately next comes the hunger provoking display of Safeway stores. As if to satisfy one's needs immediately, then we have the kitchen, dining room, and cooking school setup.

On the east wall, there are cards placed by several merchants advertising their wares—Moss House Grocery and Market, Clowe Floral Co., First National Bank, Mitchell Cleaning Co., Brown Hat Co., Cunningham Bakery, Ed M. Polk, Insurance, Corsicana Steam Laundry and Valley View Dairy. Another attractive booth is the space taken by the Spencer Corset company.

Cooking School.
The cooking school is serious business with Corsicana ladies. Notebook in hand they come early and get a seat and make notes of each step involved in preparing new delicacies. The cabinet stove and refrigerator by General Electric in the center of the stage causes one to wonder if they are not largely responsible for the good results obtained.

There are two church booths that should be visited early. The candy booth with Mrs. M. C. Candon in charge is one of the first attractions of the Bazaar, and what candy! Just stop for a look. You'll buy. For several months the ladies of the church have been preparing articles for the Bazaar. Each year these choice pieces go early in the Bazaar. You should see them early, making your choice. Mrs. B. A. Crofford is in charge of the booth.

Excellent Program.

DISTRIBUTION OF CANNED PRODUCE TO BE STARTED SOON

ITEMS CANNED ON FIFTY- FIFTY BASIS REPORTED TO RUN 5300 CANS.

Distribution of the canned produce packed by farm women of Navarro county during the past several months in the containers supplied by Corsicana residents on a 50-50 basis will be started within a few days, Miss Ruth McNabb reported Wednesday morning.

A grand total of 5300 cans have been filled, half of which will be returned to the donors. Some 300 cans remain to be sent out for filling. Of the 2850 which will be returned to Corsicana residents, 500 will go to the United Charities by instruction of the donors.

The empty containers, all kinds of produce are included, and officials in charge of the campaign pointed out that a far larger number of cans would have been filled if it were not for the prolonged drought that destroyed gardens in all parts of the county.

Miss McNabb also announced that the canning unit of the Navarro county home extension will be placed in operation next week, with Mrs. J. O. Walker as supervisor. Operations have been delayed by failure of a small amount of equipment to arrive, but this will be installed quickly. Carpenters were reported installing cabinets and other fixtures. Several Corsicana citizens have operated in the movement with donations of many kinds.

A ten day given the home demonstration club reporters Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Houston by Miss McNabb, and plans for the Achievement Day tours scheduled later this month were completed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Navarro County Home Demonstration Club council will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to Miss McNabb.

Achievement Day plans and schedule of visits for the month will be presented along with some side-light on the eight proposed amendments to the state constitution which will be submitted at the November general election.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to inspect the train during its stay here.

A test run over the Burlington tracks from Dallas to Houston, via Corsicana, will be made on Wednesday, Oct. 10, and the train will stop here on its leisurely return trip to Dallas, where it will be put on exhibition at the State Fair.

On the test trip the "Zephyr" will leave Dallas at 6:10 a. m. and arrive in Houston at 10:10 a. m., after making the 249 1-2 miles in four hours. Mr. Robertson estimated the train would pass through Corsicana on the test run at about 7:15, but will not stop.

In a test run between Denver, Colo., and Chicago, Ill., recently, the "Zephyr" made the 1015 miles in 78 1/2 minutes, averaging 77.4 miles an hour, and attaining a top speed at one time for a short run of 138 miles per hour.

WIDE SPREAD FOUND BETWEEN PRODUCER, CONSUMER OF MILK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(P)— The AAA produced figures today to show striking variations in the spread between the price the dairy farmer gets for milk and the sum the housewife pays for the bottle on the doorstep.

After surveying 50 cities, the farm administration disclosed that this spread, called the gross operating margin of the milk distributors, ranged from a low of 4.41 cents a quart at Chicago to a high of 8.34 cents at Raleigh, North Carolina.

The report noted that four out of the five localities where the spread is below 5 cents are under federal regulation in the form of milk marketing licenses. The four are Chicago, Baltimore, Boston and the so-called "four cities" of Davenport, Iowa, Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill.

The AAA, however, did not claim the credit for the lower margins in those markets.

The retail price of delivered milk ranged from 9 cents a quart at Evansville, Indiana, Indianapolis, Indiana, and the grand cities at Miami, Florida.

Prices paid to producers scaled from a low of $1.74 per hundred pounds at Duluth, Minn., to a high of $3.40 to Fall River, Mass.

Officials pointed out that the review does not include allowances for milk sold at wholesale or prices the consumers pay at stores, which are frequently a few cents less than the delivered price. It also ignored supplies of relief milk distributed by dealers.

MAGIC FOR YOUR TEETH

MODERN MAGIC
It really is like magic what modern dentists can do to make ugly old teeth young and white, well shaped and beautiful. Read how this can be done for you if you want it.

If you have the will, a certain amount of time, a little courage and a few hundred dollars, you can have miracles performed on your mouth, making you perfect, no matter what they now are, and so giving you a brilliant smile, and a mouth that must be lovely.

Consider how much trouble it would be to have your good looks and if you can afford it, have it done. Only be sure your dentist is good, and also very modern in his methods. For the old-fashioned dentist pooh-poohs new treatment, and though they would no doubt perform the feat of making over your teeth, still you'd better go to one who has good practice in it.

The magic is a process called capping. Moulds are made of your teeth, as they are now. They are filled and put in first class shape. Suppose one is missing—an artificial one is made, so it fits right against the gum. It is held in place by the caps which fit over the adjoining teeth.

These are literally hard shells of perfectly shaped teeth—yours as they should have been. Yours actually are stripped of the outside enamel, or most of it, a process which would be painful except that a local anesthetic is used. The cap of the perfect tooth is cemented over this, and the edges, or the shoulders, as they call them, of the cap go up under the gum. This part sounds uncomfortable, but is not, for if the cap is made well, the gum settles down easily over these rounded edges. And decay can not take place if the cap is fitted well.

By this magic, pointed teeth, discoloured teeth, broken teeth, badly spaced or crooked teeth are made into an even line of good looking, well shaped, healthy teeth. No one but your dentist could tell the difference, and he only if he was the one who made them. I find that a bridge, which means a tooth and two caps, one on each side, or three teeth costs about one hundred dollars. But some dentists charge a hundred dollars a tooth and many may charge much less.

Mrs. V. N. A.—A simple diet that is also nourishing is what is usually advised when there is "acne". It is necessary to have a clean digestive system, and then take nothing that does not digest properly; also, elimination should be very regular, as the skin should have no unnecessary strain put upon it. Fats, and other heating foods are usually omitted from the diet, and very little meat taken, especially those that take many hours to digest, like pork and products made from it. If you do not have a doctor to suggest your diet, you will not go wrong if you keep it to fresh vegetables and fruit; and if meat, make it lean, and confine it to lamb, and chicken, or other fowl. If milk agrees with you, take at least a quart a day of it, also butter-milk, as the latter sweetens the digestive system and it does not contain any fat. It may even be necessary for you to give up butter at first. If the skin is very dry, while cream or oils are usually allowed for the skin, some relief must be obtained for it, and in that case use plain sweet almond oil. This softens and will keep the skin from falling into the tiny lines that will happen, even though temporarily, when there is extreme dryness from any cause.

Mrs. G. F.—When using the white of egg for an astringent treatment, you should add five times as much water as there is of the egg white. Cleanse the skin first, and apply the astringent all over face and throat. Lie down for half an hour while the mixture dries and tightens the skin, then wash all of it off thoroughly and give the skin as much cream as it will take up.
